10.2 Consequences of Expiration or Termination

- 10.2.1 Where the termination of the Agreement is with notice or where the Parties have agreed not to renew the term of the Agreement prior to its expiration, before the date on which the expiration or termination of this Agreement becomes effective:
- a) 8...... (Parties are required to state what happens to the clients of the Sub-Broker upon termination; for example, it is expected that all mandate instructions received from clients must be duly executed before the termination of the Agreement and if not, a clear and seamless process must be stated for concluding the execution of such pending client orders in line with best execution obligations. Parties should also indicate whether or not the clients are to be retained by the Dealing Member. In the event that the clients are to be transferred to a new Dealing Member pursuant to the termination, the Agreement should also: (i) stipulate a reasonable time frame within which to finalise the transfer of clients' accounts from the current Dealing Member to another Dealing Member; (ii) indicate whose responsibility it is to communicate/introduce the new parties (i.e. clients and the new Dealing Member); (iii) stipulate who will bear any associated costs of transfer; (iv) stipulate that Parties will co-operate with each other and do all that is necessary to achieve an effective, efficient and a seamless transfer/hand-over process, including prompt execution of any relevant documents and the provision/disclosure of any necessary documents/information; and (v) Parties should expressly undertake to do all of the foregoing; etc.).
- 10.3 Where the termination of the Agreement is without notice or where the Agreement expires before decisions are taken on the handover process after the expiration of the Agreement, within two days of the termination or expiration of the Agreement:
  - a) <sup>9</sup>...... (Parties are required to state the steps to finalise the transfer of clients' accounts from the current Dealing Member to another Dealing Member. There should also be a clear arrangement on how to handle any pending client orders which were received prior to the termination of the Agreement).

- 10.4 The expiration or termination of this Agreement for whatever reason shall not affect the accrued rights of the Parties arising in any way out of this Agreement as at the date of expiration or termination.
- 10.5 Upon the expiration or termination of this Agreement, all the provisions of this Agreement which are expressed to survive the expiration or termination of the Agreement or which are required to give effect to such expiration or termination or the consequences of expiration or termination or by implication ought to survive, will survive the expiration or termination of this Agreement howsoever occurring.

11 SEVERANCE

11.1 If a court of competent jurisdiction or other competent body decides that any provision of this Agreement is void or otherwise ineffective but would be valid and effective if appropriately modified, such provision will, to the extent possible, be modified with a legal, enforceable, and valid provision that is as similar in tenor to the stricken provision as is legally possible to make it valid and effective. If such a provision cannot be so modified, the invalidity or ineffectiveness thereof will not affect or impair the validity or legal effect of any other provision of this Agreement.

12 GOVERNING LAW, JURISDICTION AND DISPUTE RESOLUTION

This Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the Federal Republic of Nigeria.

Parties should insert other Boiler Plate Clauses which they feel are relevant to them e.g. Confidentiality, Intellectual Property, Waiver, Variation etc.
