The Company was founded on the principles of developing local industries that would in turn create employment opportunities through the production of good quality products.

Coleman has metamorphosed from its first modest factory, which was established in 1998 at 149/151, Idimu Road, Ikotun, Lagos into a giant plant processing 60,000 metric tons of Copper and 24,000 metric tons of Aluminium per annum, and now ranked as the largest cable manufacturing in West Africa with 200,000 square meters of factory space at Km 34, Lagos-Ibadan Expressway, Arepo and Km 2, Sagamu-Benin express way, Toll Gate Sagamu which were commissioned in July, 2009 and November 2015 respectively. The Sagamu Factory is a new ultra-modern Factory with state-of-the-art machineries for the production of High, Medium Voltage cables situated along Sagamu – Benin expressway in Sagamu, Ogun State.

As a result, the company has been receiving Nigeria Industrial Standard (NIS) and Standard Organisation of Nigeria (SON) certifications since 2002. FACTORIES

Over the last few years, the company has embarked on several expansion projects in its plan to expand production capacity to take advantage of increasing demand as well as grow its market share. The Company completed and commissioned its ultra-modern factory in Sagamu to produce Medium and High Voltage XLPE insulated cables – 11/33 KV (Armoured and Non-Armoured) for industrial, Oil & Gas use in November 2014. In its further expansion drive, Coleman commissioned another low voltage manufacturing factory in Arepo, tagged “Arepo 2”, to enhance the production capacity of its existing Arepo Factory in October 2015. In 2016, the company also commissioned a new ultra-modern factory with state-of-the-art machineries for the production of High and Medium Voltage cables situated along Sagamu-Benin expressway.

The Company currently has the following three (3) factory expansion projects in its pipeline:

- Expansion of Shagamu 2 factory – The project is 95% completed and has been in use since November 2022. Most of the cable requirements of Saipem and Daewoo for Train 7 Project is being produced from this factory, for which contract of over $50 million has been awarded to the Company.
- Expansion of Shagamu 3 factory – Factory will be used for backward integration for copper rod of 8,000 tons per month and aluminum of 2,500 tons per month.
- New Fibre Optics Factory (Arepo 3) – For the production of Fibre Optic Cables. This factory was commissioned in July 2022 and is currently producing Fibre Optic Cables for MTN and other telecoms companies. The second phase of this Factory is being constructed in Shagamu (Shagamu 5 factory) which will double the size of Arepo 3 in terms of capacity utilization.

The Fibre Optics project is a new line for Coleman, and it involves the acquisition and installation of Fibre Optic Cable manufacturing machines for the production of fibre optic cables. A fibre optic cable is a network cable that contains strands of glass fibres inside an insulated casing. They are designed for long-distance, high-performance data networking, and telecommunications. Compared to wired cables, fibre optic cables provide higher bandwidth and transmit data over longer distances. Fibre optic Internet sends data faster than basic cable and supports much of the world's internet, cable television, and telephone systems.

TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Prior to the suspension of the use of Commercial Papers and Bankers Acceptances as off-balance-sheet instruments by banks and discount houses, Commercial Papers were exempt from Withholding Tax ("WHT"). Recent Commercial Papers have been issued in accordance with this position on the grounds that a commercial paper is a discounted instrument, for which no withholding tax is payable on the discount income.

The Notes issued under the Programme will be zero-coupon notes and as such, will be offered and sold at discount to Face Value. The Notes will thus not bear interest, and the Issuer will not be required to withhold or deduct tax from payments in respect of the Notes to the Note holders. However, the discount on the Notes may be taxed in accordance with applicable Nigerian tax laws.

The summary is not intended to be, and should not be construed to be tax advice to any particular subscriber. In particular, it does not constitute a representation by the Issuer or its advisers on the tax consequences attaching to a subscription or purchase of Notes issued under the Programme. Tax considerations that may be relevant to a decision to acquire, hold or dispose of Notes issued under the Programme and the tax consequences applicable to each actual or prospective subscriber or purchaser of the Notes may vary. Any prospective investor who is in any doubt as to his/her tax position or who is subject to taxation in any jurisdiction other than Nigeria should consult his/her own professional advisers without delay as to the consequences of an investment in the Notes in view of his/her own personal circumstances. Neither the Issuer nor its tax advisers shall be liable to any subscriber in any manner for placing reliance upon the contents of this section.

*This section does not describe all the risks (including those relating to each prospective investor's particular circumstances) with respect to an investment in the Notes. The risks in this section are provided as general information only. Prospective investors should refer to, and carefully consider, the risks described below and the information contained elsewhere in this Programme Memorandum, which may describe additional risks associated with the Notes. The Issuer and the Arranger disclaim any responsibility for advising prospective investors of such risks as they exist at the date of this Programme Memorandum or as such risks may change from time to time. Prospective Investors should consult their own financial and legal advisers about the risks associated with an investment in the Commercial Papers. An investment in the Commercial Papers involves certain risks, most of which may or may not occur and neither the Issuer nor the Arranger are in a position to express a view on the likelihood of any such contingency occurring. Accordingly, Prospective Investors should carefully consider, amongst other things, the following risk factors together with all of the other information included in this Programme Memorandum and any applicable Pricing Supplement before purchasing the Commercial Papers. Investors should also seek professional advice before making investment decisions in respect of the Notes.

RISKS FACTORS RELATING TO NIGERIA

Economic Risk

The Issuer is domiciled in Nigeria, where most of its customers also reside. Accordingly, its business, results of operations, and/or financial conditions depend significantly on the economic and political conditions prevailing in Nigeria.

The trajectory of Nigeria's economic growth is profoundly influenced by a combination of internal and external factors, many of which extend beyond the fiscal and monetary policies implemented by its policymakers. A key characteristic of Nigeria's economy is its heavy reliance on oil revenues, which constitute a major portion of both government income and export earnings. As a result, fluctuations in global oil prices—impacted by factors such as the ongoing war in Ukraine and the recent escalation of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict—alongside challenges like low oil production levels, have a substantial effect on the nation's fiscal stability and overall economic performance.

To achieve a path of sustainable growth, Nigeria must tackle several critical issues. These include diversifying its revenue sources beyond oil, enhancing fiscal transparency, and implementing greater fiscal discipline. Addressing these areas is essential for mitigating the risks associated with external economic shocks and fostering a more resilient and stable economic environment.

To counter these challenges, the government has initiated economic reforms, including harmonizing foreign exchange rates and phasing out the petrol subsidy. Whilst there have been positive developments, such as a renewed focus on agricultural and digital sectors, which hold potential for long-term growth and diversification, the country's economic stability remains vulnerable to oil price fluctuations.

Issues with governance and processes continue to weigh on doing business in Nigeria.

Bureaucracy, bribery, and corruption are of serious concern and constitute major barriers to doing business in Nigeria and hinder economic growth and social development. Nigeria currently ranks 131 out of 190 countries in the World Bank's 2020 Doing Business ranking. This is an indication of the country's poor performance in the areas of paying taxes, enforcing contracts and trading across borders, which makes the climate difficult for doing business. This continues to impact negatively on tax revenues, investor confidence and mobility of goods.

Failure to address these issues, continued corruption in the public sector and any future allegations of or perceived risk of corruption in Nigeria could have an adverse effect on the Nigerian economy and may have a negative effect on Nigeria's ability to attract foreign investment. The inability to attract foreign investment will have a detrimental effect on the ability to attract foreign exchange, which will put pressure on the currency.

RISK FACTORS

Political Risk

In recent years, Nigeria's political climate has been marked by considerable instability, with the nation grappling with a wide array of social challenges. These include terrorism, protests and civil unrest, religious and ethnic conflicts, and the vandalism of pipelines. Concurrently, various factors have undermined the business environment. Government policies, fluctuations in global oil prices, currency depreciation, soaring monetary policy rates and inflation rates have all contributed to a challenging economic landscape. Together, these issues have eroded investor confidence and hindered business growth, creating an environment fraught with uncertainty.

While recent efforts have achieved some success in countering insurgent groups, the risk of these groups regrouping remains a significant concern. Effectively addressing this risk hinges on the government's ability to tackle the underlying issues that fuel these problems, such as poverty, limited access to education, religious intolerance, weak law enforcement, and general insecurity. Without addressing these root causes, insurgent groups are likely to persist, especially in the northeastern regions of Nigeria. The ongoing activities of these groups have detrimental effects on the nation's economy, which, in turn, could pose potential challenges for the Issuer's operations.

RISKS RELATING TO COLEMAN TECHNICAL INDUSTRIES LIMITED

Business Risks – These are risks associated with the business activities of the Company

Source of raw materials

Coleman sources a significant portion of its raw materials from outside Nigeria, while also buying locally. The quality and availability of raw materials, as well as the security to supply chains remains a risk. Imported raw materials are likely to be subject to arbitrary increases in tax and duties. Foreign exchange volatility and sudden increase in input costs may not be easily passed to consumers and may affect the Company's margins.

Underdeveloped power and transport infrastructure

Manufacturers in Nigeria are plagued by the intermittent supply of electricity and poor transport networks and infrastructure. Despite the ongoing efforts by the federal government, problems still persist with power generation, transmission and distribution thereby impeding the development of the industry. Many manufacturers rely heavily on alternative electricity which increases the overall cost of doing business.

Unstable pricing, and sometimes scarcity of fuel for power generation contributes to potential fluctuation of overheads.

Competition Risk – The risk that the Company will lose market share to other players in the industry

Risk of Substitutes

Consumers could be price sensitive and in the event that Coleman passes costs to consumers, there is the high likelihood of them switching to competitors, thereby leading to a loss in market share.

Legal Risk – The risk that counterparties may not fulfil contractual agreements

This could arise from the type and nature of contractual agreements entered into by CTIL. There is a risk that the Company's counterparties in these agreements may fail to fulfil their obligations. There is also the risk that Coleman may not perform its obligations, thereby exposing the Company to litigation.

Foreign Exchange Risk – The Company is exposed to currency risks and is affected by changes in the value of the Naira against other currencies

Foreign exchange risk is the risk that changes in foreign exchange rates and controls would affect the value of the financial assets and liabilities as well as off-balance sheet items of the Issuer. Financial instruments that are exposed to this risk include foreign currency denominated loans and advances, foreign currency denominated securities, and future cash flows in foreign currencies arising from foreign exchange transactions undertaken by the Issuer. Further changes in exchange rates could result in further devaluation/depreciation of the Naira which could have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition.

RISK FACTORS

Environmental Risk – These are losses that arise due to natural occurrences in the environment.

Rising terrorist attacks and community clashes across the country, especially in the North-Eastern part of Nigeria is a risk to most businesses. Whilst the federal and state governments have intensified efforts aimed at reducing the level of terrorist attacks, there can be no assurance that same will not persist with the resultant negative impact on security and development.

RISKS RELATING TO THE COMMERCIAL PAPER NOTES

Change in interest rates may affect the price of the Commercial Papers

Commercial papers are offered at a fixed discount to the pre-determined face value and as a result, they are subject to price risk. Consequently, the price of the commercial papers may vary inversely with changes in prevailing interest rates. That is, a rise in interest will cause the price of the commercial paper notes to fall and when interest rates fall, the price increases. Accordingly, the extent of the fall or rise in the prices is a function of the existing yield, days to maturity and the increase or decrease in the level of the prevailing interest rates. Increased interest rates, which frequently accompany inflation and/or a growing economy are also likely to have a negative effect on the price of Commercial Papers. However, these effects are only in the short term as the Commercial Papers are short-term instruments, to the extent that there are no extended roll-overs.

Independent Review and Advice

Each prospective investor in the Commercial Papers must conduct its own independent assessment and seek any professional advice as deemed appropriate or necessary under the circumstances to ensure that its purchase of the Commercial Papers aligns fully with its financial needs, objectives, and conditions. For institutional investors, it is also crucial to confirm that the terms of the Commercial Papers are consistent with all their internally applicable investment policies, guidelines, and restrictions, in addition to the inherent risks associated with investing in or holding Commercial Papers. Prospective investors should not rely on the Issuer or any of its affiliates to determine the legality of their purchase of the Commercial Papers or to assess the other matters mentioned above.

Liquidity risk for the Commercial Papers

There is a risk that the liquidity of the Commercial Papers may be limited and consequently, investors may not be able to readily sell their Commercial Papers at prices that will enable them to realize a yield comparable to that of similar instruments, if any, in a developed secondary market. The short-term nature of the Commercial Papers means that investors will typically hold the securities till maturity. The trading market for debt securities may be volatile and adversely impacted by many events given the influence of economic and market conditions, interest rates and currency exchange rates. Global events may lead to market volatility which may have an adverse effect on the price of the Commercial Papers.

Exchange rate risks and exchange controls

Payments of principal and interest on the Commercial Papers will be made in Naira. This presents certain risks relating to currency conversions on foreign denominated portfolios. These include the risk that exchange rates may significantly change (including changes due to devaluation of the Naira or revaluation of the investor's currency). An appreciation in the value of the investor's currency relative to the Naira would decrease (1) the investor's currency-equivalent yield on the Commercial Papers, (2) the investor's currency equivalent value of the principal payable on the Commercial Papers and (3) the investor's currency equivalent market value of the Commercial Papers. The relevant government may impose (as some have done in the past) exchange controls that could adversely affect an applicable exchange rate. As a result, investors may receive less returns and/or principal than expected.

Legality of Purchase

This covers the risk that neither the Issuer, the Arranger and IPA nor any of their respective affiliates have or assume responsibility for the lawfulness of the acquisition of the Notes by a prospective investor of the Notes, whether under the laws of the jurisdiction of its incorporation or the jurisdiction in which it operates (if different), or for compliance by that prospective investor with any law, regulation, or regulatory policy applicable to it.

Modification, waivers, and substitution

RISK FACTORS

The conditions of the Commercial Papers contain provisions for calling General Meetings of Noteholders to consider matters affecting their interests generally. These provisions permit defined majorities to bind all Noteholders, including Noteholders who did not attend and vote at the relevant General Meeting and Noteholders who voted in a manner contrary to the majority. This means that decisions can be made that will bind all Noteholders, including those who did not attend or vote at the relevant General Meeting, as well as those who voted in opposition to the majority. As a result, there is a risk that individual Noteholders might find themselves subject to decisions made by the majority, even if they did not participate in the meeting or disagree with the outcome. This could potentially impact their rights and interests in ways they may not have anticipated, highlighting the importance for Noteholders to be aware of and understand these provisions in subscribing to the Commercial Papers.

Credit ratings may not reflect all risks.

The ratings may not reflect the potential impact of all risks related to the structure, market, additional factors discussed above, and other factors that may affect the value of the Commercial Papers. A credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be revised or withdrawn by the rating agency at any time

RATING RATIONALE

- Agusto & Co. hereby upgrades the rating assigned to Coleman Technical Industries Limited ("Coleman Wires & Cables", "Coleman", "CTIL" or "the Company") to "A-". The rating upgrade reflects the notable improvement in the Company's earnings and cash flows supported in part by the sustained demand for its products as well as its growing foreign exchange earnings from its oil & gas product segment, which has helped to somewhat mitigate its foreign currency risk. This is in addition to the sustained growth in profit margins on the back of the positive impact of its procurement price hedging strategy (forward buying) and strong ability to pass on cost increases to consumers. The rating considers CTIL's expanding electrical cable production and distribution capacities, which should sustain its market leadership status, and the prospects of local recycling of copper scraps (backward integration) that will help to build additional resilience against price and supply risks associated with imported raw materials. The rating is however constrained by sustained inventory investments, which have continued to weigh on the Company's working capital and overall liquidity.
- Coleman Technical Industries Limited is a leading cable maker and distributor in Nigeria. The Company has over 30 main products across the power, control, aerial, submersible, communication and other specialty cable categories with an extensive distribution network across Nigeria and some markets in West Africa. CTIL's factories are located in Arepo and Sagamu in Ogun State with annual installed production capacities of 60,000 metric tons of copper and 40,000 metric tons of aluminum conductors. These factories operate at an average capacity utilization of about 65% per annum, although management expects a significant improvement in the average utilization rate as it continues to ramp up production to meet growing demand for its products. The Company is currently constructing a copper smelting plant, which is expected to come on stream in the first quarter of 2025. The Company also plans to expand its current wood drum-making capacity to support the packaging of its power cables.
- In the financial year ended 31 December 2023 (FYE 2023), CTIL's revenue grew by 37.6% to ₦54.2 billion to reflect robust volume growth as well as translation gains from its dollar-denominated supply contracts. Coleman's gross profit and operating profit margins improved to 29.3% and 24.7% respectively, in FYE 2023 (2022: 18.5% and 15.3%) to underline the efficiency in raw material procurement after it raised additional Commercial Paper (CP) Notes to fund the bulk purchase of raw materials to hedge against price and currency risks. Buoyed by the interest income and foreign exchange gains, which offset the increase in interest expenses, Coleman posted a much better pre-tax profit margin of 32% in FYE 2023 compared to the previous year's ratio of 14.4%. Even if we adjust for the foreign exchange gains, CTIL would have still posted a healthy pre-tax profit of 17.7% in FYE 2023. Overall, CTIL's return on asset (ROA) and return on equity (ROE) ratios increased significantly to 20.8% and 61.1% respectively, in FYE 2023 (2022: 12% and 37.3%) to reflect the higher profit levels during the year.

- In the five months ended 31 May 2024 (unaudited), Coleman posted revenue of ₱42.9 billion, which represented about 79% of the entire revenue in 2023, to reflect higher product prices and sales volume during the period. The Company's operating profit and pre-tax profit margins soared to 45% and 52.1% respectively as the efficiency in the sourcing of raw materials and its cost pass-through pricing strategy became even more evident in the first half of 2024. Therefore, the Company's annualised ROA and ROE ratios grew to 43.7% and 106.2% respectively. Based on its expanding scale of operations, sustained demand and strong ability to pass on cost, we expect a steady improvement in its profitability ratios.
- Coleman's operating cash flow (OCF) rebounded to ₱37.6 billion in FYE 2023 (2022: ₱74 million) to reflect the much-improved earnings and higher inflows from suppliers' credit and customer deposits during the year. The OCF in FYE 2023, which represented a significant 69% of the revenue for the year, was sufficient to cover interest and principal repayments. With the expected upsurge in the demand for its products, particularly in the second half of the year (its peak period), we anticipate better earnings and operating cash flows in FYE 2024. In our opinion, Coleman's operating cash flow is good and sustainable.
- As at FYE 2023, CTIL posted an overall working capital surplus of ₱3.3 billion after it obtained ₱10.5 billion concessional loans from the Bank of Industry (BOI) to support its ongoing expansion while also leveraging customer deposits, suppliers' credits and Commercial Paper (CP) issuances to meet its working capital needs. However, we expect the additional funding pressure from the devaluation-induced higher purchase price of imported raw materials to continue to weigh on CTIL's overall short-term funding.
- As at FYE 2023, the Company's total liabilities rose sharply by 78.3% to ₱85.5 billion owing to the incremental bank borrowings and CP Notes issued during the year. Buoyed by the higher earnings and profit accretion, CTIL's interest-bearing debt to equity ratio reduced to 95.2% as at FYE 2023 (2022: 232.9%), while its net debt to EBITDA ratio as at the same date improved to 1.8x (2022: 5.1x) to underline its moderate leverage position.
- With the expected increase in infrastructure spending by the government and private sector, and the operational efficiency to be derived from its ongoing backward integration, we foresee improvement in Coleman's financial performance. Furthermore, expansion in key sectors such as real estate, power transmission and distribution, oil & gas and telecommunication (data services) present huge growth opportunities for the Company. Therefore, we attach a stable outlook to Coleman Technical Industries Limited.

CREDIT RATING ANNOUNCEMENT

GCR upgrades Coleman Technical Industries Limited's long-term rating to BBB_(NG); Outlook Positive.

Rating action

Lagos, 29 August 2024 - GCR Ratings (GCR) has upgraded the national scale long-term Issuer rating of Coleman Technical Industries Limited (Coleman or the company) to BBB_(NG) from BBB_(NG) previously but affirmed the short-term Issuer rating at A3_(NG). The rating Outlook has been revised to Positive from Evolving.

Rated Entity	Rating class	Rating scale	Rating	Outlook
Coleman Technical Industries Limited	Long-term issuer	National	BBB _(NG)	Positive
	Short-term issuer	National	A3 _(NG)

Rating rationale

The rating upgrade on Coleman is underpinned by the improvements in liquidity and earnings in the recent period, which have somewhat eased off the pressures on leverage despite a rise in debt level. This is facilitated by the increased operational scale attained over the past three years, following the completion of several manufacturing plants. The positive outlook is anchored on the potential for a further rating uplift in the near term, if robust liquidity is maintained, debt contained and expansion plans are completed timeously, translating to stronger cash generation.

Coleman's business profile is strong, given the significant and increasing market share across multiple product categories in the Nigerian wires and cables market. This market position is being driven by the ongoing expansion of production capability and higher diversification into specialised products to meet demands of customers in the power, oil and gas, telecommunications, and marine service sectors. The company expect to imminently complete the backward integration for the local smelting of copper rods which it hitherto imports. The initiative is aimed at satisfying all internal input requirements for copper rods, achieve some cost savings, and position Coleman as a major supplier to local and regional market participants.

Earnings remain a major positive rating factor, driven by the recent improvement in earnings margins, which we expect to be sustained over the outlook period. The margin enhancement was supported by greater contribution of higher margin products, as well as the cost saving benefits from internal power generation. However, revenue underperformed our expectations by 34%, primarily due to contract variations by a major customer during Q4 2023. Most of these orders have since been fulfilled, supporting an annualised 90% revenue growth to NGN51.58n (USD38.3m) as of 31 June 2024. We have adopted a cautionary stance to the revenue expectations for full year 2024 and assumed that the smelting plant would become operational and contribute to the income stream in H1 2025 (management estimates: Q4 2024). Accordingly, we expect revenue to rise to NGN106Bn in 2024, while the EBITDA margin would be sustained at the 27%-33% range as the company ramps up operational scale and sustain cost efficiencies.

The solid earnings growth and cash retention have supported a better leverage metrics. However, leverage assessment remains a negative rating factor because of the compression in net interest coverage and the persistent increase in debt, 50% of which matures within 12 months from 30 June 2024. Net debt to EBITDA improved to 2.2x in 2023 (2022: 5.3x) and to 1.1x in H1 2024; while operating cash flow coverage of debt registered at a lower 22.6% in H1 2024 (after an all-time high of 52% in 2023), due to increase in prepayments for inputs and the unwinding of creditors and customer deposits. Although, interest coverage appeared strong at 14x in H1 2024 (2023: 3x; 2022: 5.4x), we believe that it would normalise to the 4x-5x range in full year 2024, as a higher proportion of the finance costs fall due in H2 2024. We expect debt to increase further to NGN70Bn in 2024 (H1 2024: NGN56.4Bn; 2023: NGN49.8Bn) to support ongoing capital investments and the resultant increase in working capital requirements. Despite this, we project net debt to EBITDA to remain modest below 2x and operating cash flow to debt at around 40%, driven by strong earnings and cash generation. We also take cognisance of Coleman's access to concessional loans from Development Finance Institutions (80% of debt as of 30 June 2024), as well as funding support from commercial banks and the commercial papers market.

The liquidity assessment is a strong positive rating factor, reflecting the substantial (eligible) committed credit facilities of over NGN80Bn held with five local lenders, which mitigates refinancing risks associated with the recent spike in short-term debt to NGN30Bn, from NGN13Bn in the comparable period in June 2023. Cash holding is also robust, registering at NGN17.7Bn as of 30 June 2024. We have also factored in GCR-estimated cumulative operating cash flows of NGN54Bn over the 18-month period to 31 December 2025, but this remains highly sensitive to potential working capital swings, that could arise from operationalising the new plants in the near term. Conversely, we expect less aggressive capital spending as the ongoing projects near completion, while also estimating moderate dividend payments based on the historical average payout ratio. Overall, liquidity sources versus uses coverage is estimated at 3.3x and 2.3x over the next six and 18-month period, respectively.

Outlook statement

The Positive Outlook is anchored on the anticipated completion of the smelting plant and other key capital projects within the next 6 to 9 months. This could translate to stronger earnings performance in line with projections and underpin robust internal cash generation, less recourse to debt funding and sustained liquidity strength. Furthermore, timeous completion and optimum operationalisation of the ongoing projects could further bolster Coleman's market position, supporting a rating uplift.

Rating triggers

A rating upgrade could be driven by an overall improvement in the financial profile, especially if earnings perform in tandem with expectations, and net debt to EBITDA remains below 2x, interest coverage strengthens above 5x and operating cash flow to debt is sustained above 40%. The ratings could also improve if liquidity coverage is sustained above 2x over a 12-to-18-month period, and if Coleman demonstrably increases market shares across multiple product categories.

On the other hand, a rating downgrade could follow a material escalation in debt without a corresponding increase in earnings and cash flows. The ratings would be lowered if interest coverage remains below 5x and operating cash flow to debt falls below 17.5% and net debt to EBITDA weakens above 3x. Refinancing and repayment risks could become elevated from a greater recourse to short-term debt, especially commercial papers, placing further strain on liquidity and triggering a downgrade.
